Recovery of cultural artefacts

3484. DR. H. P. SHARMA: Wil! the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(al what are the major cultural artefacts their estimated values and their location that have been acquired, purchased or stolen away from the country during the last three years; and

(b) what steps Government have taken so far or intends to take for the return of these artefacts especially in the light ol the recent United Nations General Assembly resolution for the return of such cultural artefacts to their original owners?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF EDUCATION AND CULTURE IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SHRIMATI KRISHNA SAHI): (a) It has not been feasible to obtain authentic information about all the articles of cultural importance of Indian origin, their estimated value and their location, that have been acquired, purchased or stolen away from the country during the last three years.

(b) The United Nations General Assembly adopted a Resolution in 1984 on Restitution of Cultural Property to the countries of origin. Several countries, however, abstained during the voting on this Resolution. The Resolution emphasised cooperative efforts between Member States in the preparation of inventories in this behalf and reduction of illicit traffic in cultural property and inter alia appealed for bilateral measures for the restitution of such cultural property. However, this convention has not been ratified so far by many countries.

India will, however, continue to pursue the matter through appropriate channels.
